Alliance missionaries arrived in Chile in 1897 and began working among the Mapuche Indians. Today, our workers in Chile have a rich and varied ministry that encompasses caring for orphans as well as impacting unreached professionals with the love of Jesus. Broken lives and families are being restored through Alliance Marriage Encounter (ALMA) weekends, and the lost are coming to Christ through Women's, Men's, and Youth Encounter ministries. I

In one amazing testimony, a couple had already signed annulment papers when a friend invited them to the marriage retreat. They went as a last-ditch effort, neither of them expecting anything to change. But their lives were radically transformed through an encounter with their Savior, and today they are sharing their story at ALMA retreats.

Alliance missionaries have made significant inroads into Chile's professional class by cultivating meaningful relationships with society's most influential residents. More than 400,000 of the country's top leaders and decision makers live in the immaculately landscaped community of Peñalolén, where no evangelical church existed. The C&MA's Church of the Vineyard was the first evangelical church in this suburb of Santiago. In Reñaca, a congregation of 100 professionals has been formed.
